Mr. Rush's measure to put Clarendon county under the operation of the timber tax, though a local measure applying only to Clarendon comes in for its share of opposition. On last Saturday a motion was made to recommit this bill, and when I explained that it was a purely local measure and had nothing to do with no other county than Clarendon, I thought it would be allowed to pass, but I soon saw differently. J. D. King's Letter to Hon. J. W. Ragsdale of Interest to Tobacco Growers of

As you no doubt are aware there has of years. been (or will be at an early date) a bill introduced in the state legislature to force or compel the farmers of South Carolina to grade and tie up their tobacco before they can sell same. Being a warehouseman of the state for the past twelve years I am fully acquainted with the tobacco situation both from the standpoint of the farmer and the buyer, and knowing what I do along this line, I feel it my duty, in justice to the tobacco growers of South Carolina, to request that this bill be positive that the larger proportion of the tobacco growers are against such a movement, especially when the true facts are put before them. The communication from Mr. N. A McMillan appearing in The Enterprise of the 14th inst., is in a large measure misleading. No doubt, Mr. McMillan is honest in his assertions, but evidently he has based his conclusions from information obtained from a small number of the tobacco growers and a communication: First, "To amend the law regulating warehouse charges so they will be reduced to the North Carolina scale. This word "reduce" used in this connection leaves the impression with the farmer that he would sell his tobacco for less warehouse charges which is not true. After his tobacco is graded into several piles and sold as on the North Carolina basis of charges, the charges will be more per thousand pounds instead of less than they are

About Sound Waves.

One of those scientists .7ho are always developing apparent paradoxes in thought has come forward with the statement that sound itself is not extraneous, but exists only because of nerve. In other words, if the ears of the human race were removed tomorrow the world would be absolutely noiseless to humanity. The contention is that the sound waves, traveling at a rate of 1,090 feet a second, create invisible ripples in the air just as a pool ripples when a rock is thrown into it. The greater the force of these waves the louder the sound. But there is no noise until these sound waves strike the sensitive nerves of the ear. Thus, reverting to the original proposition, the air waves themselves would be noiseless did they not operate in conjunction with the human sense of hearing.

Good Excuses.

Two men were drinking together when the conversation turned on how to feed and train canaries, which happened to be their profession. They were telling each other the merits of Manning Group-Consisting of Manning, Jordan, Alcolu, Trinity, their birds, which were to go in a show, and both were sure of winning the prize. At last one of them said, in a sorrowful tone: "Ah, Tom, if I Hicks, McFaddin, Barrineau, and the line schools if they had only got the one I had last week I should not have much trouble in winning, but I had taught him to sing. Each group of schools should plan its own literary features 'Home, Sweet Home,' so much to perfection that the tears rolled down his breast till he got exhausted, fell off The County Board of Education offers each group of schools his perch and was drowned in his own tears." "Oh," said Tom, "that's nothing. One night my bird was singing amount with enough to make up what amount may be deemed 'The Village Blacksmith' so true that necessary. All these prizes to be arranged for by each group of the sparks flew out of his eyes, set fire to the cage, and before we had time to put the flames out the poor Feeling that the art of public speaking should be encouraged little wretch got roasted to death.' among our pupils, particular stress is laid upon that feature, and

Decay of Courtesy.

The new woman, she who has de vised and now practises the new method of disposing of men by pretending to dispense with them altogether, is, it appears from our Paris dispatches, to be perpetuated in enduring bronze by a noted sculptress whose chef d'oeuvre has already de veloped to the point of being possible of description. It is the figure of a woman standing nonchalantly erect, right hand on hip in a pose of absolute self-reliance and on her resolute face and in her defiant eye not a trace of coquetry. She is "She Who Must Be Obeyed" : " because she commands-the very antithesis of the earlier classic she who stooped to con-

Undoubtedly there has come among us this type of woman who scorns to employ the more subtle arts that have proved so efficacious in the subjugation of men through all the past ages And she ought to have a monument that will never pass away. There can not be too many of the conquering type of woman, provided always that man is still and forever permitted to remain her chosen victim. He would not and cannot claim a higher privilege. He has at times pretended that it was the woman who liked to be pursued. But that has from the firs! been only pretense, as all men and every woman know. From time imme morial no man has fled more slowly than he who had the slightest excuse for thinking that he was being pur sued by some woman.-Philadelphia

Chinese Antiquities.

So well has the market for Chinese antiquities been worked by the deal ers that the increase in prices of Chi nese sculpture in the last five or six years has been forty to fifty times For example, one piece of sculpture of North Wei times-ninth century A D.-estimated to have cost $400 ir China, after passing through only two or three hands, is held by a dealer at $15,000. One American museum has ten stone heads broken from statues in the interior of China. Realizing in all this the menace to the sculptures of China, the Asiatic Institute is co operating with the China Monument society of Peking, whose committee is composed of the foreign ministers in Peking of Great Britain, Russia, Amer ica, France, and Japan. One remedy which the institute proposes in its appeal is the return to China by all responsible governments and institu tions of stolen Chinese antiquities ir accordance with a precedent of the sonian Institution, which set an exam ple by returning to China archaeolog ical and historical objects of which she had been robbed and which had come into its possession.

One of the most peculiar things about the Mississippi river was figured out by a government engineer. He says that it would be possible for a man to take a light canoe at Greenville. Miss., and by floating down stream 40 miles and portaging four times he would find himself 40 miles
